

THE ONLY GLOBAL ASSOCIATION OF YOUNG LAWYERS

6-9 May 2009 | LONDON

LONDON EC MEETING, MAY 2008

With some 300 languages spoken and almost a third of its residents being of foreign origin, London is one of the most multicultural and vibrant cities of the world and one that truly embodies the international values of AIJA. It is therefore with great pleasure that we invite you to join us in London at the AIJA spring conference in May 2009.

London is one the most prominent business centres in the world and the reliable economic engine of the United Kingdom. Yet, in this more difficult business climate, the pressure on board members is increasing and it is essential for them to be aware of their potential liability before taking up a position on the board of a company. We are therefore happy to bring to you a practical seminar on the issue of the liability of board members. With the help of some high-profile international speakers from private practice and the industry we will provide you with a clear guide as to how best to advise your clients on all the issues relating to the liability of board members.

The rich academic programme should not make you forget about the great social programme that we are putting together for you. Over the course of the last few years, London's nightlife has become one of the best in Europe. With an incredible number of bars, clubs and restaurants (London restaurants serve food from some 55 countries) to choose from and thanks to our 'expert' guidance, we are confident that you will find the right place to eat, drink and dance the night away.

So, what are you waiting for? Put the date in your diary and get ready for the London experience!
