Cross-border Reorganisations – Babel Towers?

M&A Seminar: Cross-border Reorganisations – Babel Towers?

Corporate reorganisations are very complex as they involve in-depth knowledge not only of corporate law itself, but also tax law, employment law, regulatory, etc. Times when companies were acting on a national level are long gone. Nowadays, companies are acting and organised globally. The result of this globalization is that companies are being (re)organized at a crossborder level. Cross-border reorganisations are particularly complex as, in addition to the different areas of the law referred to above, they take place within a legal framework governed by two or more jurisdictions. This seminar will tackle this issue and much more.
