The meeting was led by Anouk Rosielle, Insolvency Law Commission Vice-President, who also took the minutes.

1. Opening of the meeting and welcome

The Vice-President opened the meeting, in the presence of the above listed participants. The meeting was a combined meeting with the Banking, Finance and Capital Markets Commission. Jennifer Maxwell, the President of said commission led the meeting on behalf of that commission.

2. Introduction of participants

Each of the participants shortly introduced themselves.

3. Status of current projects

Joint workshop Year Conference Rome 2019

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the progress of the preparations for the joint workshop by the Insolvency and the Banking, Finance and Capital Markets Commissions.

The theme of the workshop is 'Fintech's potential on the road to sustainability'. A keynote speech from ING's sustainability department has been confirmed. There have been many applications for speaking slots and Anouk and Alex are currently making a selection of candidates, which will be confirmed shortly after the HYC.

The structure will be a key note speech, followed by two panel discussions, one focused on the possibilities and one on the risks of fintech. Each of the panels will consist of four speakers from different areas of law and business.

The meeting was then adjourned by the Vice-President.
