9th AIJA Annual Arbitration Conference After the Final Award – A new Battle on the Horizon?

We all know that the arbitration ends with the rendering of a final and binding award. But is it really over at that moment? Often, the skills and experience of counsels, arbitrators, and arbitral institutions will be tested once again after the award has been rendered. If you are curious to discuss these issues with your peers and get useful insights, among other things, about what strategies to adopt and what loopholes to use to successfully enforce an award, to set aside an award, or to avoid contradictory rulings, you should join us and attend the 9th AIJA Annual Arbitration Conference in Stockholm.
